MAERSK CASE STUDY

Maersk Oil needed to rapidly develop a new cross-functional team to deliver; A multi-billion dollar project. It was vital that the team worked seamlessly together to achieve this project effectively from the start to avoid costly delays and errors. RRI designed and delivered a three-day course which simulated a customized oil & gas challenge for the 20 core team members. The course delivered practical learning tools for communication, planning in a complex environment and significantly developed working relationships in the group.

“ YOU DID AN EXCELLENT JOB OF SIMULATING THE INDUSTRY AND THE KINDS OF PROJECTS AND PRESSURES WE WORK WITH. I AM CONVINCED THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE TEAM WILL IMPROVE BOTH AS AN IMMEDIATE ACT OF THE COURSE AND ALSO IN THE LONGER TERM AS THE RESULT.
